The B. A. Now Fair-haired Boy

All is fair and all is bright along the traffic front as Easter approaches. Even the officials like the two-hour-parking-limit-all-over-the-business-section plan of the Carmel Business Association.

Police Commissioner Allen Knight told The Pine Cone he thinks it is a good idea and will be glad to give it his support when the B. A. comes before the city council with it.

Chief of Police Roy Fraties likes the plan and expressed gratification that it originates among the business people. "If they're for it, enforcement will be much easier, since we'll have their co-operation. But I don't think we can enforce it with our present force. A traffic officer will have to be added."

Paul McKinstry, chairman of the Business Association Traffic Committee, who not only worked out the plan but is powering the drive to get the petitions signed to present to the council, says concerning the additional man for the police department, "It would be worth it."

Petition circulators report that the business district is signed up ninety-eight per cent strong. McKinstry is now going out for the signatures of shoppers and innocent by-standers. When he comes before the council at its meeting April 9, he plans to be armed to the teeth with substantial evidence of public approval.—Wilma Cook.

Memorial Service To Be Held Sunday For Dr. Crowther

Although no words can adequately express the members' deep feeling for the beloved Dr. James E. Crowther who went from this life a fortnight ago, a memorial service to the pastor will be held by the Church of the Wayfarer at three o'clock on Sunday afternoon. Groups of organ numbers by Miss Margaret Sherman Lea, tributes to their late leader by representatives from the different activity groups in the church, soprano solo by Mrs. Edith Anderson, congregational singing of hymns dear to the pastor will bear the tide of love and honor of those associated with him for close to seven years in the work of the church.

No department of activity but felt his deep spiritual purpose, his love of poetry and of the natural beauty of this area which he chose to serve in the declining years of his long public ministry.

To avoid any interruption of the memorial spirit, the doors of the church will be closed at three, and no one will be admitted after that hour.

Carrying out the expressed desire of many members, the church board at a meeting on March 18 determined to establish a tangible symbol of the community's approval of Dr. Crowther's plans for broadening the social-spiritual opportunity, particularly for the young people of Carmel. A fund has been started to which inter-

State Board Grants Transfer Of Inn Liquor License

The State Board of Equalization this week ruled in favor of the Highlands Inn, following a hearing on the transfer of a liquor license from the old owner, Senator Edward Tickle, to the new owners, Highlands Inn, Incorporated.

Highlands residents protested the transfer on the grounds that a traffic hazard would be created by the increased patronage of the Inn that the sale of liquor would occasion, and cited the narrowness of the road leading to the Inn.

New owners agreed to widen the road and the transfer of the license was granted on that condition. Hudson, Martin, Ferrante and Street were the attorneys for the Highlands Inn, Inc.

GETTING AROUND THE PENINSULA

By GLENN CLAIRMONTE

It is not only landscape—trees in unpaved streets—that give the desirable air to Carmel. It is also the opportunity for private life that the quiet way provides. It is not too early for the residents of Carmel to become aware that there is danger to the pleasure living here means if we abuse our radios. If all our neighbors will make a point of keeping their radios tuned to the point where the sound cannot intrude outside their own walls, the community will be protected from the worst nuisance of crowded cities: useless noise. Most of us who come to Carmel find the milieu conducive to study or the attainment of personal peace, and overflowing noises from across beautiful gardens can inject an ugliness known only to the miscarriage of civilization. Up in the woods are some good people who are saying, "Please, pretty please!"

3 Concerts Planned For Symphony

The Regional Symphony Orchestra is to give a concert in Salinas at the High School Auditorium Friday, May 16, under the sponsorship of the Friends of Music, the Salinas musical group that brought the San Jose Symphony orchestra to Salinas last year. The announcement was made this week by Dr. Leon Minear, vice-principal of Carmel High School and director of the orchestra, which has been rehearsing here weekly.

There are to be two concerts preceding the Salinas performance, a "warm up" concert at Fort Ord for the service men and not open to the public, and a Carmel performance in the first week in May at Sunset Auditorium.

The program for the Salinas and Carmel concerts will consist of Beethoven's First Symphony, Sibelius' Finlandia, Friedman's Slavonic Rhapsody, Georges Bizet's L'Arlesienne Suite No. 1, and Johann Strauss' Die Fledermaus.

Mr. Lorell McCann, director of music for the Salinas Junior College, will be the guest conductor for the Salinas concert. Conducting the Carmel concert will be Dr. Minear, assisted by Clifford Anderson, director of music for the Monterey schools.

There is to be a committee meeting of the symphony association next week when Peter Ferrante, chairman pro tem, will present the papers of incorporation for the committee members' approval.

4,214 Lbs. Clothing Sent From Carmel For Europe's Needy

The final shipment of good, repaired, clean clothing and shoes has been sent from Carmel by the Clothing Drive Committee, and the warehouses of the American Friends' Service Committee are now bulged with 4,214 pounds of ex-Carmel clothing, which will be distributed in Europe and Asia in specially needy sections. The entire community contributed to the success of the drive, many people giving time to mend, sort and wash clothing, and many business firms contributing new merchandise and services, such as cleaning and shoe repairing. Although the drive is officially over, clothing may still be given. A call to Mrs. M. L. Deissler at 2208-W will bring someone to collect clothing.

The committee which effected the successful drive was: Mrs. M. L. Deissler, Mrs. Jonathon Rigdon, Mrs. W. R. Wilkinson, Mrs. Stanley Pedder, Mrs. Edward Kuster, Mrs. Edna Lockwood, Mrs. Elizabeth Cass, Mrs. Speirs Russell and Mrs. Paul Low.

R. F. D. 1 MAIL IS DELAYED

If R. F. D. 1 people would request their correspondents to include "Rural Route 1" in the address on the envelope, instead of just a box number, mail would reach R. F. D. 1 people a good deal faster than it does now, Postmaster Ernest Bixler said yesterday.

Carmel Valley people would have faster service, also, if they would tell their friends to address their envelopes "Carmel Valley Route, Monterey," instead of just Carmel Valley.

Standings:	W	L	Pct.
Giants	2	0	.1000
Pilots	1	1	.500
Shamrocks	1	1	.500
Tigers	0	2	.000

The second week of Abalone League play saw Art Hull's rampaging Giants take over undisputed possession of first place when they shook off determined bids by the hard-fighting Shamrocks to emerge on the long end of a 9-6 count. Jack Giles kept his Shamrocks within striking distance during most of the game, but the potent stick work and classy fielding of the Giants proved too much for the Irishmen to overcome.

led the bat-wielders for the Shamrocks with each collecting 3 blows in 4 attempts. Norvel Yerkes and Manager Hull slugged the offerings of Pitcher Giles for a neat .500 average by garnering 2 for 4.

George DeAmaral, pitching for the Giants, kept the enemy hits well scattered and was aided on the defensive side by exceptional fielding on the part of Bob Doerr and Laurabelle Nicholson.

The Pilot-Tiger fray was a typical Abalone League game with base hits a dime a dozen and a fair smattering of ground balls trickling under anxious hands. Cree Wilder's Tigers appeared to have the game well sewed-up in the 6th inning when they enjoyed a 4 run advantage, but the Childers' aggregation put on a Garrison finish to eke out the victory. Gil Sevrons, Tiger chucker, hollered "enough" in the last frame, and Lloyd Miller took the mound and put out the fire after the damage had been done. Timbers, Childers, and Miller led the ash-wielders for the last game, each collecting 2 hits in 4 attempts.

Russ Bohlke, one of Carmel's most versatile athletes, was on the mound for the winning Pilots and pitched steady ball although being touched for 15 hits by the Tigers.

A nice gathering of fans witnessed last Sunday's doubleheader and they were rewarded with a fine afternoon of softball. A sure sign that the league is warming up was the frequent questioning of decisions handed down by the fine staff of umpires "hired" by the league. It takes all the sagacious know-how of that fine trio, Doc Staniford, Andy Del Monte, and Andy Weimann, to adjudicate the tricky incidents which arise in Abalone League play. If there isn't a rule to cover a certain play, these arbiters call a conference, and another law is written in Carmel softball play.

Next Sunday the Tigers will try to get into the winning column by clashing with the Shamrocks. This game will start at 1:30, and will be followed immediately by the Giant-Pilot battle.

CARMEL HIGH TRACK TEAM WINS MEET AT GONZALES

Accumulating a total of 65 points and scoring points in each event, the Carmel High School varsity track team walked away with their first league meet at Gonzales last Saturday. The Padres showed a well-balanced squad which proved adept in all the events. King City was second with 37 points, while the host school collected 34 markers. In the light-weight division, a strong King City team proved too classy for its opponents and coasted to a 59 point victory. Gonzales was the runner-up, with Carmel able to garner a slim 16 points.

Paul Warner, who should prove to be the best hurdler in Carmel High history, was high point man for the Padres with 10 points. Paul won the low hurdles and ran a fine second to Johansen of King City, in the high hurdles. Dick Gargiulo, speedy sophomore, turned in a good early season 100 yard dash by winning this event in 10.5 seconds. Dick also ran a leg on the winning relay team composed of Peter Ott, Joe Goodrick, and Bill Cross. The Carmel mile trio, Howard DeAmaral, Bob Barry, and Bill Hodgson, took the first three places in the four-lap event. Bill Cross copped the pole vault at 10-3 and Perry Brown pushed the iron ball out for a first place in the shotput.

In the lightweight meet, Gene Vandervort picked up 8 points with a first in the shotput and a second in the 120 yard hurdles. Pete Berg, Ed Goodrick, Don Shearn, and Tom Machado also scored points for the Babes.

Tomorrow at 1 p.m. the Carmel track team meets Monterey and Pacific Grove on the Monterey field. Monterey defeated Hollister and Salinas last Saturday, while Pacific Grove ran second to Santa Cruz in both varsity and light-weight divisions. Saturday's meet should bring out some fine races, as comparative times indicate records may be shattered.

Heavyweight scorers for Carmel: 120 high hurdles: Warner 5, Pitman 1; 880 yard: Harber 3, Weer 1; 100 yard: Gargiulo 5, Bell 1; 440 yard: Allaire 3, Hodgson 1; 220 yard: Ott 5, Gargiulo 2, Goodrick 1; 180 low hurdles: Warner 5, Pitman 1; Mile: DeAmaral 5, Barry 3, Hodgson 2; relay: Ott, Goodrick, Gargiulo, and Cross 5; pole vault: Cross 5, N. Byers 1; high jump: Pitman 2; broad jump, Warner 3; shotput: Brown 5; discus: Winslow 2.

Lightweight point scorers: 120 low hurdles: Vandervort 2; 660 yard: Berg 2, Goodrick 1; 150 yard: Shearn 2; 1,320 yd: Machado 1; shotput: Vandervort 5; discus: Berg 3.

HIGH SCHOOL TENNIS TEAM IS UNDEFEATED

By winning their second consecutive league match last Friday, the Carmel High netters established themselves as definite threats to the high-flying Monterey Toreadors for tennis supremacy this season. The Padres easily took the measure of the Watsonville racquet wielders and did not lose a set. The previous week, the Carmel lads defeated the Santa Cruz team and lost only one match. Many of the Carmel boys will be playing in the Easter tournament and will gain valuable experience by matching court tactics with the best in the state.

SUNSET GLEAMS

The Sunset Glow, our school paper, has a supplement now. It is called Sunset Gleams. It made its first appearance on our bulletin board last Friday. It is a single sheet covering happenings in and about school. Paula Schneeberger, chairman of publicity, reports the news.—Sybil Kocher.

FIRST EDITION

The most important bit of news for today is the student body meeting. You know, this will be the first meeting held by the new officers with Gregor Wilkinson presiding. I think you'll like the entertainment. It's impromptu, almost unrehearsed, and they say it's going to be funny. Remember, it's 1:00 o'clock.

Last Friday evening, Stewart, Jonathon and Gregor were hosts at a party given at Stewart's home on Camino Real. Dancing, games, cokes and doughnuts were enjoyed by the following guests: Margot, Carol Timbers, Carole Spangle, Julia, Janet Huffman and McFail, Nancy K., Allene K., Beverly, Kim, Peter, Henry, and the twins, Hans and Frans Doelman.

Sunset School was given an interesting collection of rocks, shells, and pressed flowers by Mrs. W. W. Wheeler, for our science department.

For our Wednesday P. E. program, we have a brand new album of Freddie Martin dance records.

Born: At Sunset on March 12, in Miss Staffelbach's room, a beautiful Cecropia moth. According to latest reports, it is doing nicely in its new screen cradle.

WEDNESDAY P. E.

Every Wednesday during our physical education period, the combined seventh grades receive instructions in ballroom dancing. The boys and girls are so interested in this class that sometimes they do not hear the 3:30 bell for dismissal. Mrs. Skelley is our instructor.—Janet Huffman.

STUDENT BODY MEETING

Last Friday the Sunset student body's new president, Gregor Wilkinson, called his first meeting to order. Douglass Smith led in the salute to the flag. All the officers gave very good reports, but, do you know, that meeting was never adjourned. Gregor forgot to attend to that.—Leslie King.

VARIETY PROGRAM

The entertainment following last Friday's student body meeting was furnished by groups from different classes. The program included: String ensemble; Dad's Report Card, a skit by Mr. Roger's pupils; wind ensemble; girls' chorus, Mrs. Uzzell's sixth grade; popular songs, Janet Huffman and Betty Jean DeAmaral; clarinet solo, Sue McCloud.

The contribution from Mrs. Jordan's seventh grade called for props. Two walls, a door that could open and close, and a flight of stairs provided the proper background for Barnacle Bill. It was that old theme of a sailor and his gal. Walt Shaw wore Peter Hatton's father's navy uniform (World War I). A bold knock on the door brought a beautiful little blonde (dark-haired Douglass Smith) to the upstairs window. The audience was delighted with the singing, but can you imagine how they laughed when the door opened and out came that blonde in a melon-colored blouse and purple slacks! Douglass' father missed a good show! —Julia Graves.

THAT DOOR

That door suggested another number. Greg Wilkinson and Tim Cass starred in Open the Door, Richard. Nancy Krupocki was the "old lady" who stuck her head out the window to see what was going on. A final touch was added when the door was opened and there stood Richard, Frans Doelman, in night shirt and over-sized bedroom slippers inquiring with his very best Dutch accent, "Somebody call Richard?"—Walt Shaw.

MERCER MILLER CONFAB

Last Wednesday Bill Mercer of Hollywood, author of The Velvet Touch, drove down the coast with Rollo Peters to pay a visit to Henry Miller and there was a long discussion of moral values which led Mr. Mercer to report: "Henry Miller is of this age, the spokesman of this generation, and that is the reason his work will live." Mr. Mercer is at present engaged in writing his second screen story from a studio which overlooks the Carmel River and the mountains beyond. He claims that the Carmel environment has made it possible for him to integrate himself after years in the theatre and moving picture world had left him depleted.

Hi Chatter

By MARY GREGORY

The juniors and seniors had another type of special assembly last Friday when Harry Charles Van Pelt, assistant to the special agent in charge of the F. B. I. office in San Francisco, spoke to us about the history and the obligations of the F. B. I. Mr. Van Pelt mentioned the rising crime wave, and emphasized everyone's obligations as a citizen to act like a citizen.

Preceding the main speaker, Student Body President Bob Morrissey announced the policy towards eighth graders recently adopted in the student council. Eighth graders are now to be allowed to vote in the spring elections for the student body officers, who will be over them in their freshman year; and the class president is to be given a non-voting position in the student council.

Yesterday the whole school enjoyed the fifth in a series of national assemblies when Bobo the Magician performed.

The music department is presenting a short Easter program today, consisting of religious songs by the Girls' Glee, with a solo part by Benita Updike, a selection by the school orchestra, a violin solo by Basil Allaure, accompanied by Connie McKibbin, and a piano solo by Mary Gregory. At the conclusion of the program school will be dismissed for a week!

The Kuder Interest Test, a helpful and informative test designed to indicate vocational interests and aptitudes, has recently been taken by the freshman and junior classes. This test is given each year to the junior class, an opportunity always greatly appreciated by the students.

Seniors are now taking an Iowa test, a high school achievement test evaluating the scholastic accomplishments of each student in relation to the national norm. This test is divided into four parts: English and literature, mathematics, science, and history.

Girls' sports are still much in the lime light. To review the important activities of the month: the sophomores beat the almighty and heretofore unbeaten seniors for the championship in speedball, but the seniors retaliated by winning the volleyball championship with six wins out of six games. The final standings of the other teams were: Juniors won 2, lost 4; sophomores won 3, lost 3; freshmen won 1, lost 5. The next intramural sport will be track and field, of which Eleanor Bannerman is the manager.

The sophomore and senior volleyball teams traveled to Gonzales for a play day there, and although they won no games, the girls had a lot of fun. Gonzales will return the visit when baseball season comes around.

Badminton games with Salinas Junior College were also played, each school having its turn at hostessing.

Memorial Service To Be Held Sunday For Dr. Crowther

(Continued from page One) ested persons may contribute by communicating with Mr. E. K. Nodra, church treasurer. The fund will be administered by a special board of trustees, and decision as to the particular form of the permanent memorial will be determined at a later date. The plan is necessarily subject to the approval of the Church League, governing body of the Wayfarer organization, but so general has been the expressed approval that unqualified ratification is expected at the regular meeting to be held in May. Not sadness and mourning but a triumphant and active love will hold in memory for Dr. James E. Crowther.

Eliza Palache

Mrs. Eliza Kline Palache, who resided at San Antonio and Thirteenth in Carmel since her marriage to Whitney Palache in 1932, died Tuesday morning at a local hospital after an illness of two weeks. She was for many years active in the Woman's Auxiliary of All Saints' Church, but last year retired as secretary of that group because of Mr. Palache's failing health and her determination to devote her entire time to home activities.

A native of Berkeley, she was well known in the Bay region before taking up her residence here. She is survived by her husband and by two brothers, J. J. Kline of Ft. Wayne, Indiana, and George Russell Kline of Palo Alto. There will be private services at Paul's Mortuary, Friday, at which Bishop Parsons will officiate, but only members of the immediate family will attend, and friends are requested to refrain from sending flowers. A simple memorial service will be held in All Saints' Church next week, announcement of the time to be made later.

Getting Around The Peninsula

(Continued from Page One) the Greek Theatre and then to serve an elegant luncheon in the Faculty Glade to the learned professors in their caps and gowns. Throughout the country in all the large cities there are Alumni luncheons on the nearest Saturday to the sacred date, and many friendships blossom "on foreign soil" of other states as a result of this annual gathering. This year the Alumni in the various communities of the State of California have started an annual project by which they can best celebrate the beginning of the University. Each local group is raising $125 to be matched by the State appropriation, for the awarding of a $250 cash scholarship to the chosen high school senior who is able to accept such an honor for the launching of a university career. Contributions from Alumni living in Carmel are being made to Thomas Elston, while those living in Monterey are sending checks to Thor Krogh, and those in Pacific Grove are contacting Reginald Foster. The money collected must be sent to the University by the end of this month and the Comptroller will then arrange to draw on the State for a like amount. The selection of six candidates from each city is already underway, the Carmel committee being composed of Thomas Elston and George Mosolf.

In Monterey high school seniors will be recommended by a committee composed of Thor Krogh and Charles Frost, and in Pacific Grove a similar committee is made up of Reginald Foster and Thomas R. Turner. By April 15 the University authorities will return their approval of the candidates and then the committees will make their final selections. At the date of the announcement it is planned to hold a dinner which will be attended by all the Alumni of the three cities, the three winners of the awards from the three high schools to be the guests of honor. At the beginning of the fall semester each of the three winning seniors will be awarded $250 as a scholarship. It is recognized that this sum will not be ample to cover all expenses of the Freshman year, but the recipient of such an honor will arrive on the campus already recognized and will find many opportunities, social and otherwise, which will be a reminder that he has the backing of his own community. A living memorial of this kind can renew the meaning of Charter Day each year. Everyone who can remember how big $250 would have looked to him in his Freshman year is invited to participate in the raising of the fund in his own community. The three Peninsula cities are working shoulder to shoulder in this plan.

Somebody had a brilliant idea because Easter was in the air, but it wasn't brilliant enough. It seems that the hatcheries put their thousands of little chicks in the sex detector and separated the cockerels from the pullets, then decided to raise the pullets for the Great American Sunday dinner. But the cost of feed was so high that the cockerels were sentenced to a painless death. Just then a clever advertising man offered to rescue the cockerels—he would take the pretty little yellow chicks off the hands of the hatchery managers as a special favor. The only thing that went wrong is that the advertising man didn't think the thought through to the end. He merely placed the little chicks he had so graciously rescued in a show window and offered them as Easter gifts to children whose parents should make purchases in his store. At first citizens worried about the discomfort of the little chicks in the blazing sun, but soon it was observed that one little chick at a time was given away to a child as a springtime toy. Horrified reports began to reach Jules Kahofe, the County Humane Officer, and he consulted the District Attorney as to his duties in the matter. He was informed that in the absence of any city ordinance prohibiting the giving away of living creatures to be used as toys he was powerless. Mr. Kahofe, however, remembered that during the Centennial celebration in Monterey last Fourth of July, when baby ducks were being given away in brown paper bags to winners of a chance game, he used the technicality of unlawful raffle to confiscate the ducks before they were led to a lingering death. He looked for a technicality that could protect the yellow chicks in this case, but there was none in view of the fact that the store manager was feeding and watering the chicks properly. Mr. Kahofe then appealed to the manager and explained the danger to the chicks, but the manager at first remonstrated, "I have saved these chicks from being murdered at the hatcheries!" That was true, certainly, but the manager was now turning the chicks over to slow death at the hands of children having no understanding of how to handle or care for them. Mr. Kahofe finally prevailed upon the store manager to present the chicks, in lots of a dozen at least, to friends who would care for them until they could be fully grown. In this instance the manager was willing to cooperate when the problem was presented to him.

Before any such situation arises again, can't we get the necessary ordinances on the books of the three Peninsula cities?

Plenty Of Joans But Scarcity Of Men For New Play

Joan of Lorraine, hit play of the current New York season, has been specially released for immediate non-professional production at Carmel's Golden Bough Playhouse, according to an announcement by Edward Kuster, director. He says:

"Maxwell Anderson's great play is still playing to capacity on Broadway. We are among the fortunate few groups that have received an early grant of production rights. We are trying to form the best possible cast. If we do the play well it will reflect widespread credit on the community. I have already heard nearly a score of prospective Joans in try-out readings, with additional candidates in the offing. Some have been very good, and the more the merrier, but after all there is only one Joan in the cast, and I would like to see somebody trying out for the other five women's roles. But above all we need half a dozen men players of middle years and even beyond, for in the Council, Coronation and Trial scenes youth is definitely at a discount. It would be a good time for some of our oldtimers to come forward. We are very happy about the play, and will be even happier when we complete the cast and start rehearsals."

Monday, April 28, has been set for the first of four successive Monday performances. The casting committee urges that all persons interested in participating communicate at once with the director by telephoning 403-W.

Bird Movies Last Of Science Series

This evening at 8 o'clock in the Social Hall of the Monterey High School, Allan D. Cruikshank will speak under the auspices of the Monterey Union Adult School in the Life Science Series, which is being conducted by Mr. F. S. Ruth, biology instructor of the Pacific Grove High School. Mr. Cruikshank is a lecturer under the National Audubon Society and had studied wildlife in its most remote habitats, armed with movie camera.

He will illustrate his talk, "Along the Suwanee," with color motion pictures and will imitate the calls of birds that appear on the screen. The film shows also unusual shots of alligators, snakes, turtles, frogs, insects and flowers to be found along the 250-mile length of the Suwanee River which Stephen Foster made famous in his song. Mr. Cruikshank is the author of "Birds Around New York City" and has contributed to many periodicals, including "National Geographic," "Nature Magazine," "Audubon Magazine," and "Natural History." His photographs have appeared in the U. S. Camera Yearbook, and he is said to be a talented raconteur.

The public is invited to attend this final lecture in the Life Science Series which has been in progress since early last February.

VACATION FOR PSYCH CLASS

The Adult School class in the literature of applied psychology will not meet during the Easter week, and will hereafter meet on Friday afternoons from 2 to 4, in the library of Sunset School. The Adult School has been outgrowing the space at its disposal and there has been some difficulty in finding a room for this class. Members have voted to meet on Fridays for the rest of the spring semester. On April 4, Mrs. Louis B. Sawyer will continue her discussion of Samuel

M. Shoemaker's book entitled, "How We Can Help Other People" and residents of the Peninsula are invited to attend. The class is conducted by Mrs. Glenn Clairmonte.

It's Your Buick — but our Sweetheart

WHEN you first slipped behind the wheel of that Buick of yours, remember how your heart lifted? Remember your happy smile as your toe touched off the hum of Buick Fireball power? And your widening grin when all roads seemed downy as you winged along on BuiCoil springing?

That's what Buicks are built to do. And they'll do it long and well when they're cared for as anything so fine should be.

Not just an occasional oil change, mind you. Not a haphazard "Look 'er over, fill the battery, check the air." But interested, competent, understanding car care that keeps your Buick at its best.

That's exactly what we're set to give. In our shop we have the special Buick tools to do jobs quicker and better. In our parts department is a stock of Buick engineered parts for Buick cars. And we have a staff of thoughtful, capable specialists who know their Buicks lock, stock and barrel.

No, it's not ordinary service you get here. It's expert car care — by an organization devoted to seeing that you get the most out of your Buick. And surprisingly, for the same work done, it costs no more.

Think it over. Isn't it wise to let us care for your Buick? After all, Buicks are our sweethearts, first, last and always.

LOOK AT YOUR BUICK everyone else does

Your Buick has lines and style that win wolf calls. Are you keeping it smart and handsome as it should be? Are you protecting its good looks, its luster and color?

There's a way to do it that Buick engineers say is right. It's called Porcelanizing. This is a power-buffed finish that gives a smooth glaze to the body paint, sealing the pores and protecting the surface against road grime and dirt.

That's the way we do it here. Try it. See how it keeps a new car lustrous longer — how it gives older ones a new lease on good looks.

Two Sides Of Central Valley Project Presented At League Sponsored Meet

By L. L. TURNER

Discussion of the Central Valley Project in all its aspects made a full program for the League of Women Voters' general meeting in Sunset School library last Friday evening, with Richard Boke of the U. S. reclamation service on the project and Herman C. Kruse of the Pacific Gas and Electric Company, supplying the facts and figures, including a huge map indicating the dozens of individual damsites, canals, reservoirs, pumping stations, natural streams and rivers that make up the whole. Mrs. Thor Hellum, League president, conducted the meeting, and Mrs. Perry Newberry, chairman of the League group that has studied the project for five months, briefly sketched the history of flood control in the valley from the 1870s to the present time and introduced the speakers.

Mr. Kruse, industrial development representative in the P. G. & E. office in San Francisco, discussed the question of electric power, especially its distribution, which he contended should be given over to private enterprise, instead of being carried on by the Central Valley Project, which produces the power in connection with the overall development. His company has been producing and distributing electricity in the valley for a number of years—on a much smaller scale than the C. V. P. will ultimately produce it—and its representative claimed that it should be allowed to transmit and distribute the publicly produced power instead of submitting to competition by the Project. Mr. Kruse said that the public would suffer in no way from such an arrangement, and would even enjoy some reduction in costs, while the company payments to the Project for current would bring about liquidation of the costs and a substantial profit to C. V. P. in the course of fifty years. Installing transmission lines by the latter, he declared, would be an unnecessary expense.

Mr. Boke, who has had many years of experience working in the U. S. Reclamation Service and has been director of this department of C. V. P. for more than two years, gave brief attention to the electric company's contention. To his mind the fundamental question in distribution is whether a vast and expensive development of a natural resource carried out by the people of the whole country by appropriations by Congress should be handed over, even in part, to a private company for its financial benefit. Mr. Boke believes that this should not be done, but rather that all financial benefit in the development should accrue to the sovereign people who initiated and carried out the project involving a natural resource whose title is vested in the people.

Discussing another controversial phase of the Project, the acreage limitation for irrigation, the director said it carries out the U. S. land policy of the past 300 years (including the colonial period), that is, to get away from feudalism and give opportunity to the individual, which is the basis of American liberty, the essence of democracy. Opportunity for the individual farmer cultivating an area which he can handle with a minimum of outside help, an area rendered productive by an ample water supply, will set the economic-social pattern in rural California, and make it possible for the state to support a vastly increased population, who, in fact, are already coming in from other parts of the country. The increase in food products will be needed by increased population both of the state and of the nation.

The general plan of the Project is to move the excess water, by means of canals, from the Sacramento valley, which had two-thirds of the water and one-third of the arable land of the Central valley, into the San Joaquin valley, with its one-third of the water and two-thirds of the arable land. In connection with this the disastrous floods which periodically have caused millions of dollars of damage in the valleys will be prevented, salinity of water in the fertile river delta will be eliminated, and abundance of fresh water will be made available for industries of the bay area and for cities in the two valleys. The electricity generated in the project will be available for the extensive pumping operations involved in moving the water to higher land areas as well as for distribution to industries, cities, and rural communities. The only part of the project that will not pay for itself in a period of forty-five years from completion of the development is that of flood control, cost of which cannot be levied upon the communities.

Dolores St. Players Back On The Boards For Ft. Ord Patients

The Dolores Street Players, organized during the war to amuse men in the service with their melodrama, The Bartender's Daughter, are going into production again tonight at Ft. Ord Hospital. "There are still fellows out there at the hospital, and they need cheering up," says Allen Knight, who took his band out to the hospital last week. He's one of the mainstays of Players, the cast which includes Lloyd Weer, the Welty's, Eddie George, Ruth McElroy.

"Dicky" Dixon is stage manager.

C. L. CLASS VACATION

During Easter Week Mrs. Glenn Clairmonte's class in Current Literature will not meet. It is expected that John Nesbitt of Passing Parade fame will be presented on April 8, but at present Mr. Nesbitt is enroute from New York, and definite announcement will be made in the next issue of The Pine Cone.

Tom Hefling Promoted

Tom Hefling, who has arrived in Tientsin, China, and been assigned to duty with the First Engineer Battalion, First Marine Division, has received his first promotion, and is now Private First Class. Tom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hefling of Carmel and the grandson of Thomas J. Hefling, who extracts the taxes from us and manages to be well liked. Tom joined the Marines seven months ago, after his graduation from Carmel High School.

He will be remembered as guard on the all C. C. A. L. basketball team of last year. He has been playing basketball this winter with one of the Marine teams and recently attended a dinner given for the team at the Imperial Hotel in Tientsin.

As he was raised in Carmel, he is finding the winter of North China a bit rugged, according to his letters home, but seems to be thriving nevertheless.

His duties have been mostly guarding property in the Marine compound, and mysterious shapes draped in canvas have turned out to be, when uncovered, nothing more interesting than cement mixers, graders, and such.

Since all of the Marines are to be withdrawn from China in the near future, Tom is wondering where he will be going next, but in spite of various rumors, he will probably not receive any definite information until he is on the way.

Locating In Carmel

Mr. and Mrs. David Marshall are definitely separating from Los Angeles and will make their future home in Carmel. During the war, while Mr. Marshall was in service, Mrs. Marshall was in the library, where she made many friends who will welcome her back to the village. David Marshall is the son of Mrs. Sophie Marshall.

Byzantine Slides

This evening at eight o'clock Mr. Noel Sullivan will entertain a small group of interested friends when Mr. Thomas Whittemore arrives from San Diego by plane to show color slides of the frescoes he uncovered during archaeological researches outside of Constantinople. Mr. Whittemore is a Bostonian, the author of The Mosaics of St. Sophia, and he has been the American Representative on the Egypt Exploration Fund Committee since 1911. He is the house guest of Mr. and Mrs. Alden Carpenter, who are staying in the home of Reginald Inwood down the coast.

Youth Fellowship

Eben Whittlesey spoke to the Youth Fellowship Group at the Church of the Wayfarer last Sunday afternoon on Law, which might sound like a big order, but Mr. Whittlesey managed to make his subject interesting to his young listeners, who have had a series of vocational speakers selling their wares. After the meeting, the group had its monthly party at the home of their program chairman, Betty Plaxton. Jacky Briggs, social chairman, was in charge of the affair. The next meeting will be held Sunday in the church patio when Dr. Leigh Mudge will read from his recently published book of poems.

Home From Desert Trip

Mr. and Mrs. C. Edward Graves, who have spent a month in Death Valley making Kodachrome slides, returned to Carmel Saturday night and expect to stay put until June or July.

From Stanford

Clayton Neill, Jr., is home from Stanford, spending the week with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Neill. He returns Monday.

Old Timer Calls

Gustave Laumeister, pioneer Carmel builder, came into The Pine Cone office this week to see about his subscription. Mr. Laumeister, who now lives in Palo Alto, has never missed a copy of the paper since the first issue and he holds another record, that of never having had his name in this paper. That is going to be taken care of right now, for Gustave Laumeister, who is 82 years old, is here in the house he built many years ago, looking around in astonishment at the things that are happening to our town. Before coming to Carmel to live, he was a builder in Palo Alto, and in the horse and buggy days drove down to superintend the houses he was erecting here. It was he who built the houses on Professors' Row for a number of Stanford professors. He married the daughter of Thomas Seale, who at one time owned 2,000 acres on which part of the town of Palo Alto stands. He also owned a race track, and he and Leland Stanford, Sr., were great cronies. The Laumeisters fell in love with Carmel and he built a home for himself on Dolores and Santa Lucia.

As long as he was doing so much work in Carmel he thought he might as well shorten the distance from portal to portal. Later, he sold his place to Miss Elizabeth Gamble of Palo Alto, who is a member of the Proctor and Gamble family. Whenever Miss Gamble is not here, Gustave Laumeister is welcome to come down and occupy his former home. His daughter, Mrs. Ernest Haskell of New York and Maine, is with him on his present vacation. Ernest Haskell was the internationally known etcher.

Western Union Merger

Miss Louise Kruse, employed in the Carmel Western Union office, and Steve Canepa of the Monterey office of the same company, will be married at 4 o'clock, Saturday, March 29, at the Methodist Church in Pacific Grove, the Reverend Douglas G. Decherd officiating. The bride will wear a blue gabardine suit with white accessories. Her maid of honor, Miss Etta Davis, has chosen a gray suit accented by black accessories. Nino Davis, brother of the maid of honor, will act as groomsman. Miss Kruse came to the Monterey Peninsula three years ago from Blackfoot, Idaho. The young couple will go to San Francisco for a short stay at the Mark Hopkins, but will have their honeymoon when vacation time comes around. They will live in Monterey.

Van Meters To S. F. Reception

Dr. and Mrs. A. C. Van Meter leave today for San Francisco, where they will attend a reception given by Dr. and Mrs. Philip Strickler, at their home on Broadway, honoring Sir Alexander and Lady Grantham, who are on their way to Hongkong, where Sir Alexander is to assume his new post as Governor General. His last assignment was in the Fiji Islands. Sir Alexander and Lady Grantham are old friends of Dr. and Mrs. Van Meter. Lady Grantham is the sister of Hallie Sampson of Carmel.

Have You Read . . . ?

BY EDWARD O. SISSON

Sarah Cleghorn's THE SEAMLESS ROBE, The Religion of Lovingkindness, is one of the most profoundly religious books I have ever read; yet it will shock some people who believe they are truly religious, perhaps even some who really are. For Miss Cleghorn flatly proposes to "substitute, in well-known and much-loved religious sayings from the Bible . . . the word 'love' for the word 'God'. Or if one finds it simpler and clearer, the more descriptive old Bible word, 'Lovingkindness'." Well, she has solid support in the Bible itself, where we read the emphatic declaration, twice repeated, that "God is Love." For my part, I gladly accept her view. She boldly revises the Decalogue, making the First Commandment read, "Thou shalt have no other gods than Lovingkindness." And she flashes light upon the chasm between the Old Testament God and the New, by showing how absurd it would be to make the same change in another phrase "Vengeance is mine . . . saith Lovingkindness." "Startling indeed," she goes on, "is the bloodless revolution which takes place when we exchange for the vague expression 'the Lord,' which can mean . . . everything both bad and good, for the fireside name which means one good thing only."

Thus the subtitle, it seems to me, embodies the theme of the book perfectly, much more than the gently mystic title. She starts off on that theme: "Lovingkindness is a religion . . . that grows wild in the human heart. . . . Lovingkindness, through all its range, from casual cheer and comradeship to the sublimities of compassion and tenderness, roots deep in our nature, and forms its childlike contact with infinity. Kind looks and sounds and motions are a natural Esperanto, a language so universal that beasts understand it." Underneath everything else . . . "in youth and age, a great thirst for loving. We thirst also for being loved, the receiving, but far more ardently for the giving side. We first love, then long to be requited, and dwell in mutual bliss." The super-sophisticated and the professional mankind-baiters will sniff at all this; they prefer Spengler's "Man is a beast of prey"; but out of a hundred normal everyday people, mingling learned and simple, high and low, rich and poor, few will plead guilty to being beasts of prey, and fewer still will yearn to live with beasts of prey for fellowship.

Miss Cleghorn offers another "definition" of God, the essence of which she actually traces back to Aristotle, the words her own: "God is what we cannot help loving." That will take some thinking, for all of us have gods in this sense; examined carefully, some of them turn out to be Satan; but, I still believe, very few; there is actually, by count and measure, far more loving-kindness in this motley world than Satanism. Consider the plain fact that crime, cruelty, violence, are still "News" and get the headlines and too much paper, while kind deeds are so common that even the massive "Sunday edition" could report only a mere trickle of them. If one husband in a great city murders his wife, the deed is shouted from the headlines all over the land; the hundreds of thousands of husbands and wives who go on in happy comradeship are just taken for granted. This is the all-pervading "fallacy of the conspicuous."

Children and old folks and animals all find a place in the sun. There is a whole chapter on Christmas, a symbol of a "convivial heaven"—what a startling and delightful turn! Christmas, the author remarks, makes it clear that the "religion of Lovingkindness" is not "too difficult and self-denying for human nature. . . . Is anything about Christmas dutiful and disciplinary? . . . And of children, imagine our saying, 'Christmas is a hard lesson for them to learn. Only by long training can they appreciate it. Our sinful nature must first be changed and purified.' Yet, at Christmas, self is denied; but with chuckles of

• RIPE SONG

*After we passed the jagged roofs
The stone-like curb and metal street,
Suddenly we came upon a cobalt sky
And the ripe song of frogs within an evening marsh,
That lay broad rifled with green, secretive.
It seemed as if the sky
Curved down to meet this magnet song.
We waited watching the deepening hue of sky,
And wondered that no other sound
Came stretching through a peace
That seemed to grow from out the ground
Like rushes that we looked upon.
Ah, these, we said
Were the first worshippers of Spring.
The trumpeters of old
Singing as they did upon a First Spring night
While they awaited the first web of white
To fall upon the slowly darkening land.*

—DULCIE M. GAWNE

THE KEEPSAKE

*Look back,
Before the road strikes inland
Frosty with morning,
Between broad lettuce fields
Flattened with dew
Spreading green shallows
Like marsh-ponds, undulant, in the sun.
Slow, at the turn . . .
Submerge the eyes in sea color
On peacock glisten of waves;
Taste blown salt in the spindrift;
Gather from off-shore wind
The smell of pine . . .
Then go—listening, straining
For the last overtone throb of ocean.*

*The ear shall hold what the sea has spoken,
As a dry shell, pressed close,
Give it back, again and again
Unforgotten.*

—GERTRUDE FLETCHER

PEOPLE AT DRY CREEK

*The people who lived here
Were dust-colored—
They were a portion of soil.
The man I spoke to had long hair
Ukempt as the dry hill grass.
His eyes were washed turquoise
In a dry earth face.*

mirth and anticipatory enjoyment." Nor is there anything narrow or sectarian about Christmas: "I'll never forget," said a little Jewish boy, with starry eyes, 'the first time we kept Christmas.' In a whole class of Christians, it was a little Mohammedan boy who best understood Dickens' Christmas stories."

There is nothing narrow about Miss Cleghorn's own religion, even though she is, I take it, a Quaker; tolerance is not enough, she understands, but we must rise to mutual understanding and recognition: "How many Catholics at mass, Quakers in meeting silence, and Mohammedans casting their prayer mats down at the appointed hour in the clamorous street, have remembered the goodness of God together, together felt its power?" How beautifully the shift of the name of God would fit into this sentence. She goes on, "So have Buddhist students, silent at sunrise in the ashram; and so have American revivalists, shouting together at camp meetings." (I must confess my "tolerance," weaker than hers, shudders a little at the last generous inclusion!)

Miss Cleghorn, profoundly religious as she is, is all for happiness. "When we look at life with that innocence of eye that children have, we find nothing contemptible in the cultivation of happiness. Still more surprising, she is flatly against martyrdom: "Martyrdom," she admits, "does give us a soaring lift. But is it a brew of spiritual gin, producing a sense of warmth and power indeed, but drawing the warmth away from the heart, and dangerously chilling vitality at its source? . . . As if conscience, fatally intoxicated by the spiritual pomp and glory of martyrdom, had prayed: 'My exacting God, it takes all my strength to suffer and die for thee—for my poor fellow-mortals there's nothing left.' . . . Martyrs are the red roses which bloom along the thorny hedges of human antagonism. . . . For the more a martyr has been loved, the more his murderers are hated and punished, and thus in their turn erected into martyrs." I must add that this paragraph is a very poor appraisal of the chapter, which just must be read in full.

Indeed, what I have just said goes for my whole review. The little book brings so much that is surprising, even startling, that it seems to come from another world; yet, at the same time, it is so reasonable, so sane, so realistic, so true to the intimate actuality of the common life of people. It is to be recommended with a proviso, that only with a certain spiritual humility, and with the more-than-tolerance that its author manifests, will the reader penetrate to its message.

Days Before Yesterday

BY LILLIAN LOCKE

While browsing over some old Pine Cones (circa 1929 to 1933) I yearned over some of the advertisements of the local merchants. There was Ewig's, now Carleton's, who offered butter at twenty-four cents a pound. As it did not state that there was a limit, it is to be presumed that you could buy as many pounds as your money or credit would cover.

Not to be outdone, Holman's from over the hill would sell you four bars of good toilet soap for nineteen cents. You gave them the two dimes and, of all things, you got a penny back, for there was no plus tax in those days.

However, Carmel came right back at them with Quality Market listing leg of lamb at nineteen cents, and Dolores Grocery with cheese at sixteen cents a pound.

Even the Village Cobbler advertised his willingness to make over your shoes and that, my friend, makes me think that the owner led a vastly different life than he has during the last few years. Advertise for more shoes to repair indeed! He was lucky if he found time to crawl from the mountain of shoes long enough to eat and sleep. But everyone advertised in those days. Even

Lovely Girls—Lovely Clothes For The P. T. A. Fashion Tea

BY BEE MARTIN

Nature, in her prettiest raiment, furnished a beautiful setting for one of the most luxurious Fashion Teas ever presented in Carmel at the La Playa, last Thursday week. Overwhelming enthusiasm from the audience clearly indicated that this show would set a precedent for such affairs for many years to come. It was all possible under the capable direction of chairman Mrs. H. B. Blanks and her committee. However, special laurels should be given to Mrs. Frank Sowell, in charge of models, Mrs. E. R. Elliott and Mrs. Eugene Scheffer, who handled the fashions, and to a volunteer helper, Mrs. G. M. Johnson.

A string ensemble, Mr. and Mrs. Leon Minear and Miss Jean Stanbridge, delighted those present with background music, while the sleekly groomed mannequins sauntered casually about the sunny rooms. Every imaginable type of attire was shown, from a bizarre Portuguese fisherman dress to a luscious beaver coat. All that was lacking, if one wished to be facetious, was a Hollywood Tom Breneman to describe milady's elaborate chapeaux as she entered the lobby!

The first round of applause was for the one and only man, Gordon Parker, Jr., aged four, who sought the aisles in spanking new blue jeans and red plaid shirt from the Pioneer. Little three year old curlylocks, Judith Ann Leslie, captured everyone's heart under a starched white Easter bonnet complete with crispy white dress with blue eyelet trim from the Carmel Kiddie Shop.

Patty Elston's dark eyes sparkled in a mother-daughter yellow checked swirl and swirllette cotton. And representing Lanz was another mother-daughter combination of red and green jumpers with lacey blouses, trimmed with yards of eyelet embroidery. The same fiery red was used in the bonnets. Two very stylish misses.

The Silver Thimble brought forth frosting for the cake in an apricot lace negligee, softly bloused, with a short train. And in their elasticized white bathing suit there was black lace inserted along the sides. In contrast, the Cinderella had fun with their ankle length fisherman cotton, with an enormous pleated green and gold plaid skirt. This was topped with a rugged french brown straw hat.

A handmade yellow organdy Junior Miss Frock, from the Jack and Jill, was fresh as an Easter morn. And jumping over to some of the suits, there was one that was stunning. It was two-toned, having a pencil slim black skirt and white striped peplumed grey jacket. A hat and riding whip gave it such a sporty touch.

Furs are always chic, as was demonstrated by Frank Louda's new black persian lamb of three quarter length. It had wide turned back cuffs and fullness subtly gathered from a yoke at the neck. And racing ahead to formals, there were many to choose from. A white silk print was shown and was breathtaking. The cowl neckline was an off the shoulder type, most flattering to the wearer's golden tan. Another had a black silk bodice and a dream of a white net gathered skirt, caught together with white and matched yellow tassels on the long sash.

Beverly T. Viney made a fine commentator at the microphone, but she did not mention her unique hats which complimented so many costumes. Neilsons gave flowers that the girls carried, and many accessories were from the Pine Inn gift shop. The Stocking Shop offered nylons and anklets.

Hostesses seen at the tea tables were: Mrs. Joseph Schoeninger, Miss Clara Kellogg, Mrs. Ernest Morehouse, Mrs. Howard Clark, and Mrs. Jonathon Rigdon.

Lastly, the gracious models for the occasion, who acutely "put it across" were: Misses Judith Ann Leslie, Patty Elston, and Suzanna Pilot; Master Gordon Parker, Jr., and Mrs. Baures, Sue Brooks, Mrs. Moira Brooks, Ruth Burrows, Evelyn Diekemper, Mrs. E. F. Fouratt, Mary Gregory, Mrs. Steve Jones, Patty McKee, Mrs. Edgar Leslie, June Morlan, Mrs. Don Painter, Mrs. Walt Pilot, Mrs. Henry Rink, Sue Steuber, Mrs. Edmond Sullivan, Joan Tait, and Frances Wright.

California's industrial development before and during the war has become permanent growth—the post-war trend is upward! We are going places in a big way!...in industry, payrolls, population and markets.

Immediately after wartime building restrictions were lifted, P.G. and E. began to provide increased service for Northern and Central California to meet new and increased demands for gas and electricity and to build well ahead of anticipated growth. In 1946 approximately $45,000,000 was spent toward that end. AND NOW a comprehensive 5-year expansion program has been developed calling for the expenditure of an additional $300,000,000 by the end of 1951.

New power plants will be constructed and others enlarged, adding about 1,000,000 horsepower to P.G. and E.'s power capacity. Also included in the program is a vast systemwide expansion of transmission and distribution facilities.

P.G. and E. will be fully ready to help Northern and Central California grow during the busy years ahead with a power capacity of more than 3,500,000 horsepower.

The Dance-Episodes program of the famous Angna Enters, scheduled by the Denny-Watrous management for the Sunset School auditorium on Saturday evening, April 5, is exciting much interest. Miss Enters, according to critics, seems to be one of those artists whose sources of inspiration are so vast that each year witnesses and records expansion of her amazing abilities. Those who saw her when she performed for the Carmel Music Society a few years ago will see a still greater Enters when they see her again next week.

Angna Enters, enroute to her eighth sold-out performance in the Los Angeles Philharmonic Auditorium, gave a performance in Houston, Texas, in early March, of which the local critic wrote, "That rare and marvelous spirit, that superb and mysterious entertainer, the inimitable Angna Enters released her gifts in full measure last night."

DEMOCRATIC CLUB

The Democratic Women's Club met last Friday afternoon at the home of Mrs. T. H. Criley in the Highlands, Miss Clara Kellogg presiding. The meeting was given over to discussion of the various crises that are confronting the United States. President Truman's recommendations for going into Greece and Turkey with money for armies was discussed and divergent views on the subject were presented.

Days Before Yesterday

(Continued from page 8) Tilly Pollak had a dignified reminder that she offered antiques to the public, and Immelman's had white shirts at one dollar only. No, it did not mean that you could look at them for a dollar, you got the shirt, too. Tires sold at three dollars and forty-five cents, and a modern cottage, completely furnished, was for rent at fifteen dollars a MONTH, not week. And you could have it on lease—and one hopeful soul advertised "Want—ed—a girl for general housework, assist with care of children." Of course the poor thing was expected to trek home at night to sleep but look what she was to be given, meals and the princely sum of twenty dollars a month!

Well, would I go back and live in those golden golden days? You bet your sweet life I would.

Religion Can Avert War, Dr. Mudge Tells Missionary Society

"What would my grandfather think of the world today?" Dr. E. Leigh Mudge asked of the Carmel Missionary Society at the meeting on Tuesday afternoon at the Church of the Wayfarer. He was speaking on the subject of Hope or Apprehension, with the world confronted with seemingly insurmountable problems. The last fifty years, he pointed out, has seen the greatest changes, the most rapid in all the world's history. But the central idea must be to help improve the world in a Christian pattern. We must have a near view and a far view if we would understand what is happening and have an influence upon the outcome of today's events, he said.

The last half century has seen the great developments in electricity; hardly any of our electric appliances were dreamed of fifty years ago. The automobile, the airplane, the radio have been developed in that time, and yet at the turn of the century the U. S. superintendent of patents wanted to resign because he said that everything possible had been invented and the government would have no further use for him! The nation faces tremendous problems growing out of the rapid development, but under everything is the moral distinction that must be taken into account. On the new dime are two kinds of leaves, of the olive and the oak, peace through power, and we may well be apprehensive of linking power with peace.

But there is also room for hope in world conditions; the fundamentals of stability can be cultivated. We need the "faith of our fathers" to build permanently. We need ideals of conduct; the world has had ideals, but sometimes people have made mistakes in the way of implementing the ideals. Believing in peace, society must work for progress in establishing peace. As problems can call out hidden strength, Dr. Mudge quoted the poet: "Thanks that Thou hast matched us with this hour." The greatest hope lies in homes, homes that build character, which is needed so much today. If homes fail to do their work, then civilization is doomed. As Archibald MacLeish said, "No way back over the sea water . . . only the way on," so we must strive to lift the world upward and we shall have power. "The shock of the power of atomic energy should make us realize that only through religion can World War III be averted."

on leading the devotions. Miss Mary Barnes, the treasurer, read a letter from Bishop McConnell telling of the need for help in bettering the opportunity of Negroes in the South. The society voted to send $15 to the Committee of One Hundred, for this work, and a like sum each to the Community Center in Monterey and to the American Friends Service Committee for helping homeless children in the devastated areas of the world.

League Study Section

This afternoon at 2:30 the study section on the Central Valley Project will meet in the lobby of La Ribera hotel on Lincoln street at Eighth. Mrs. Newberry, leader of the section, plans this to be the final meeting of the group which arranged the general meeting of the League of Women Voters on this subject last Friday evening. The group is expected to make final report on the study to the state board of the League.

International relations study group will meet Thursday afternoon, April 3, at 2:30, at the home of Mrs. Ferdinand Haasis on Tropic at Eighth street. Mrs. Millard Klein will give a report on cartels. Mrs. Ethel J. Sherburne will discuss conditions in Greece, and Mrs. Ritter Holman will present the questions being considered at the Moscow conference of foreign ministers of the Big Four. General discussion of each problem will follow its presentation. Dr. and Mrs. Blanchard Steeves are leading the study group, which is a part of the local League of Women Voters.

Community Chest Meeting

Monterey Peninsula Community Chest will hold its annual meeting April 7, with luncheon at noon at Casa Munras. Any contributor is invited to attend. The nominating committee has selected the panel of the new board of directors, which will be voted on at this meeting. Carmel members include Mrs. Helen Clark Cranston, Alfred Fry, Mrs. C. Parker Holt, Arthur Hull, Mark Keller, John Morse, Mrs. Paul Porter Jr., Charles Rayne, John Redhead, Eben Whittlesey, Mrs. Paul Winslow, Tom Work Jr., and Fritz Wurzmann. Reports from all agencies will be read at this meeting. Carmel's particular interests are in the Girl Scouts, Boy Scouts, Carmel Boys' Club, and Carmel Well Baby Clinic.

Natives Return

Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Overhulse and their daughter, Dawn, who left Carmel in '43 for ranching in the Santa Cruz mountains, are home again. After the usual difficulties, they have located a house and are now settled at Monte Verde and Twelfth. Dawn, who formerly helped get out The Pine Cone, is attending San Jose State College, majoring in English. She is spending the Easter holidays here and brought with her Margaret Rau of Berkeley and Elizabeth Rau, who is her roommate at San Jose.

Visited Tuck Boxers

Mrs. Joan Shirley and her little daughter, Susan, came up last week from Los Angeles to spend the weekend with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Grandfield, the new owners of the Tuck Box. Mrs. Shirley was so intrigued with Carmel that she plans to come back and spend the summer.

All Saints' Rummage Sale

The Episcopal Church is raising a fund of one million dollars for the displaced persons of Europe. The Woman's Auxiliary of All Saints' Church in Carmel is asking their friends, when they do their spring cleaning or moving, to save anything that they can spare for the rummage sale on May 7. If possible, the Auxiliary would rather receive the things at the Parish House, or collect them, in the first week in May, but if that is not possible, donations can be left at the Parish House at any time, or they can be collected by telephoning to Mrs. R. Ellis Roberts, Carmel 2235-J.

Hobby Hurt Him

For years Frederick Haasis has made it a practice to swim in the ocean every day. Rain or shine, cold or hot, Frederick was seen running down and jumping into the waves. Something went wrong about a week ago, and he sprained the muscles in his leg, and that is why he has been seen on crutches recently, but he says he'll be back in the water next week.

Steinbeck Here

John Steinbeck, whose talent for avoiding personal publicity amounts to genius, slipped into town for a brief visit with his sister, Mrs. W. N. Dekker, and was on his way to Hollywood before anybody even had a peek at one of the most famous fictioneers of the Monterey Peninsula.

Musical

Mary K. Knight entertained a group of her piano students at her home last Sunday afternoon. An interesting program was given by Jane Kocher, Sally Law, Helen Kovacevich, Barbara Pascal, Sandra Silvers, Priscilla Clark, Helaine Daggy, Linda Blackford, Penny Bunn, and Billy Kyle.

Settled In Carmel

Mr. and Mrs. George Pearson and little son, Larry, have come from Southern California to make their home in Carmel. Mrs. Pearson attended Douglas School ten years ago and is looking up old school friends.

Robles Del Rio Baby

Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Fralich of Robles Del Rio have a brand new baby boy named Edwin Bruce, who was born at the Community Hospital, March 18. Mrs. Fralich brought the baby home early in the week to get acquainted with his sister, Thresa, and brothers, Stanley and Joe. The Fralichs came to the Valley about a year ago. Mr. Fralich is an architect associated with Robert Jones. He served in the Pacific as Major in the Engineering Corps. Mrs. Fralich is also an architect, who took her training at the University of Nebraska.

Vacation Over

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Giem and their children have just returned from a two weeks' vacation, going to Denver, visiting there, and driving back to Carmel.

Business And Doubtful Pleasure

Mr. and Mrs. George Cain and Cecil "Pop" Smith left Carmel last week for points north. The Cains drove "Pop" to San Francisco, where he had no business, and returned to Menlo Park, where the Cains had business. Pop managed to stick it out for the night, but took the train next day for home.

Vacationing Poet

Professor William Heermanns of San Jose State College has been in Carmel for several days. He is preparing a group of his poems to be published under the title, Passion and Compassion, the result of his emotional experiences during his escape from Hitler's Germany.

Fractured Arm

Little Diane Bohn-Marx was bucked off a horse last Sunday with the result that she was taken to the Community Hospital with a broken arm. She was able to leave the hospital Wednesday. Diane is a good rider, but her horse had not been out for so long that he was too full of pep and started to pitch. Diane is the daughter of Charlotte Bohn-Marx, a member of the Golden Bough Players, and is in the fifth grade at Sunset School.

Hillyer Grandson

Colonel and Mrs. Roy N. Hillyer are breathing more easily now that their new grandson, Kevin Leslie, is doing so well in his little incubator apartment at the Monterey Hospital. Kevin, born March 18, weighed only four pounds. His mother is the former Mary Jane Hillyer, and she, too, is getting on well after a very rough time. Mr. and Mrs. Larson, the other grandparents, live in San Francisco.

Farewell Party

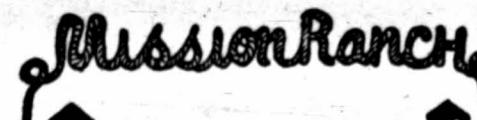

This going away business is really getting serious as the genus young-army-group threatens to become extinct. The going is gay, at least, and one of the happy farewell parties was that given by Mrs. Dorothy Skelley for Major and Mrs. LeRoy Collins, Jr., who were on their way to Chicago Sunday morning, and for Mrs. G. L. Atwood, who with her son, Pudge, will sail for Japan April 1 to join Colonel Atwood. Guests attending were Mrs. Robert Starkey, Mrs. Joan Mitchel Jones, Mrs. Joseph Raney, Mrs. Atwood Downs, Mrs. P. J. Bowen, Mrs. Cynthia Berg Seaborn, Col. Arthur Keil, Col. Harry Walton, Captain W. Scott Brooks, Major Ronald Belin, Captain Dick Taylor, Col. Roy Alford, Col. Edson Schull, Lt. James Sherrill, Mr. Lloyd Bernegger of New York, who flew from San Francisco for the party, Mr. and Mrs. George "Pat" Pearson of Beverly Hills, now Carmel, and Mr. and Mrs. William A. Morrison, Mill Valley and Carmel.

Audubon Dinner

This evening at six o'clock the members of the Monterey Peninsula Audubon Society and their friends will meet at the Casa Munras for dinner in honor of Allan Cruikshank, a representative of the National Audubon Society, who is in town on a speaking tour. All those who wish to make reservations should telephone Ferdinand Ruth, president, at Monterey 7584. Any arriving without reservations will find it necessary to dine at separate tables. After the dinner the Society will adjourn to the Social Hall of the Monterey High School, where Mr. Cruikshank will speak in the Life Science Series, showing color photography of birds to illustrate his talk. The public is invited to attend this lecture.

Family Get-Together

When Richard Boke came to Carmel last week to speak on the Central Valley Project, he brought with him his son, Richard, and they visited his mother, Mrs. G. H. Boke, and his sister, Mrs. Marion Todd. On his return to Sacramento, Mr. Boke and his family will fly to Washington, D. C. Mrs. Boke and son, Nicholas, will go on to North Carolina, where she will visit relatives.

Sunday Reception

Mr. and Mrs. Zenas Potter entertained at a reception on Sunday afternoon from 4 to 6 o'clock at their home on Loma Terrace in honor of Mrs. Anthony F. Blanks, who has recently come from Berkeley, and bought a home on Bayview, and Mr. and Mrs. William A. Hubbard of Minneapolis, who have been wintering in Mexico. They were house guests of the Potters for several days, and are now occupying the home of Mrs. Joseph W. Stilwell during her six weeks' absence in the east. Mr. and Mrs. Hubbard are old college friends of Mr. and Mrs. Potter. About 30 attended the reception. Mr. and Mrs. Potter went to San Francisco this week for a brief visit.

Just Like Home

Mrs. Joseph Raney snapped up the Leroy Collins' house on Lopez as soon as it was available and is feeling very much at home, as it was in this house that her oldest child, Sherry, was born.

This coming week is the real Hot Cross Bun Season, although I've been enjoying the CARMEL BAKERY'S hot cross buns all during Lent. Buns from the Ocean Avenue CARMEL BAKERY are sweet and fat, filled with toothsome fruit and topped with a cross in maccaroon paste which you may either eat at once or nibble around to save for a last luscious tidbit. For Easter week, too, the CARMEL BAKERY will have cookies topped with colored eggs, rabbits, and chickens in marzipan. On Saturday you'll find Napoleons there, too—wonderful bait for any lover of French pastry.

Your Easter elegance will be much enhanced if you wear a pair of THE STOCKING SHOP'S best dress nylons. In THE STOCKING SHOP opposite the Pine Inn on Ocean Avenue, you'll find the sheerest of stockings—51 gauge, 20 denier—which means a cobweb film with a misty bloom on it. For an Easter present—or an Easter presence, if you wish—the shop has Worth perfumes and colognes in the evocative scent, called Je Reviens, and Dans la Nuit, and Imprudence. The angora anklets would be nice for Easter, since they come from the Easter Rabbit's brother in shades and colors to rival Easter eggs, and for a practical note, THE STOCKING SHOP has fine lisle stockings. They're full-fashioned and sheer-looking for lisle, in both the sheer and the medium weight.

The Royal Hickman pottery is new this week in GUMP'S on Dolores. The pottery comes in slate green and in white onyx glazes, but the slate green ware drew my eye with its sea green undertones in which blue green and brown mingle like water around sea rocks. The shapes of the pieces are pleasing—the flatware formed in a modified leaf shape. The soup bowls are attractive with their covers bearing a simple stylized flower handle over which the glaze has flowed in beautiful lines. The Royal Hickman ware may be bought by the single piece or by the set. There's a complete dinner service of it. The price seems moderate.

What's better for spring than dancing, or if you can't dance, a book about dancing? THE VILLAGE BOOKSHOP on Ocean Avenue has a group of books on the dance which cover the subject extensively. There's The Dance by John Martin, dance critic of the New York Times, with pictures and text, and Merle Armitage's Dance Memoranda, which is a beautiful book with countless photographs, drawings and pictures of related arts, uniting the dance to all the other arts. Art in Modern Ballet includes the work of many modern artists such as Roualt, Picasso, Chagall, Braque and Dali in stage and costume design. If you feel amused about the whole subject of ballet, More Ballet Laughs is a book which pinpoints sharply the sometimes elaborate graces of a ballet dancer and the pretiosities of the ballet world.

All the scents of spring and others that grew in no garden make fragrant the shelves of FORTIER'S on the corner of Dolores and Ocean. A whiff of true cool, carnation scent comes from de Heriot's bath powder labelled La Premiere, and a sweeter fragrance marks White Lace. Demure or bold, evocative or sentimental, sweet or musky, whichever you wish, you may make your choice at FORTIER'S from the perfumes of Lentheric, Adrian, de Heriot, Dana, Dorothy Gray or Early America. Incidentally, the new Dorothy Gray compacts are handsome things and conveniently include lipsticks attached.

A rare combination of durability, beauty and efficiency is found in the new Zephyr Redwood awnings for which THE CARMEL WOODWORKING COMPANY on Fifth west of Junipero has received the exclusive Peninsula agency. These awnings, made of two layers of grooved redwood slats, are custom designed and built to complement the architecture of your home or office building. They are made an integral part of the building and shield doorways and windows from weather for the life of the building. Not only are they most decorative, but the light they admit is soft and diffused. There's no hard sunlight to fade rugs and upholstery. In Carmel homes, generally lacking porches, a Zephyr awning or door hood would be a useful feature to protect the doorway from winter rain and summer sun. For your new home or to make an old one more beautiful call 1923-J, THE CARMEL WOODWORKING COMPANY, for information about the Zephyr awning.

Easter means flowers—flowers to wear and flowers in homes. In the MEL-O-DEE FLOWER SHOP on Dolores you'll find Easter lilies, azaleas, hydrangeas, African violets, caladiums, heather, cinerarias, rhododendron and roses all blooming and growing to bring spring into your house. MEL-O-DEE has cut flowers from beds of tulips, iris, stock, roses, and all the other spring flowers, with great sprays of blooming fruit branches. For Easter corsages, MEL-O-DEE has orchids and roses and gardenias and the other traditional flowers, and for something new, the shop opens tulips widely and binds them into unusual corsages.

LE GOURMET in the Pine Inn on Ocean Avenue has the exclusive agency on the Peninsula for that excellent Blum's Candy, which has been a favorite of the West for years. In LE GOURMET you'll find Blum's thin, thin square mints, and caramels and almondets and Lil Darkoes and Cinnamon Bumps and bittersweet mints and a whole tantalizing array of Blum's other candies all brightly packaged and beautifully gift wrapped with LE GOURMET'S distinctive seal. My eye lingered on a package of coffee menlos and cornelias, which are coffee flavored caramels covered respectively with light and dark chocolate. There's a two-pound variety box containing samples of every candy made by Blum's. For an Easter greeting well-expressed carry with you a Blum box from LE GOURMET.

I don't know which is better, the color, the design or the material of the new linen two-piece dresses in MAXINE'S on Dolores. The dresses come in a delectable series of Easter Egg colors in a style which balances a flaring peplum against slim skirt lines and a simple and becoming top. The material is a butcher linen which is sanforized and crease resistant. There is another style in the same colors and material which has a draped and gathered bodice with a small window in the midriff to give a filigree to the design. In addition to the gayer colors the two-piece dress comes also in the classic black—and black linen has a very definite air.

In MARIANNA'S DRESS SHOP on Alvarado Street in Monterey we found a group of beautiful suits for matronly figures by Gaines of California. These suits come in sizes 38 to 42 in a fine 100% virgin wool suiting. The jacket, lined with fine satin, has a collarless round neckline and beautifully simple uncluttered.

Spalding-Work Wedding

Zizi Armstrong Spalding and Frank Work were married yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. Kent Parrot. It was a simple ceremony, read by Dr. Remsen Bird in the presence of relatives and Mrs. Remsen Bird. A large window in the living room was banked with greens, flanked by two tall arrangements of white spring blossoms, and it was here that the wedding was solemnized. The bride, unattended, was lovely in a jade green suit with a flowered silk blouse. She wore a corsage of green orchids and was given away by Mr. Kent Parrot. Thomas Wink, father of the groom, stood with his son. Mrs. Kent Parrot was very chic in a dark print frock, enlivened with bright flowers. After the ceremony, the bride and groom were toasted in champagne, and a wedding cake, cut by the new Mrs. Work, was served. Mr. and Mrs. Thornton Delahanty of Pasadena came for the wedding. Mrs. Delahanty is aunt of the bride and Mr. Delahanty is a writer.

The bride was the former Zizi Armstrong of Pasadena. She was educated at the Ethel Walker School in Connecticut and the terred lines. As for detail, the suits have small pockets set into the yoke, and a handsewn finish in the stitching around neck and front edges. In gray, navy, or aqua, this dress-maker type suit will give grace to a matronly figure.

Let your mind linger on peppermint ice cream, dotted with small bits of peppermint candy, or on English toffee, pecan crunch, black walnut, or maple nut ice cream. These are only five of the nine ice cream flavors to be had at THE VILLAGE CORNER. Buy some to take home, and with it one of the 13 sundae syrups, such as black seedless raspberry, and enjoy a perfect sundae at home or on the beach.

Evening or dinner gowns with soft flowing lines and dignity of design may be found in THE COLLEGIATE DRESS SHOP on Alvarado Street in Monterey. These gowns are especially made for figures in sizes 38 to 44, with covered shoulders and graceful skirts. Crepes and jerseys are used to good effect in shades of blue, rose, white, black, and aqua.

LIAL'S MUSIC SHOP on Alvarado Street in Monterey is in good hands, and Margaret Lial is now released to spend her time in the Carmel shop, where she will be happy to visit with friends, play records, or demonstrate the new Magnavox. So now, beginning Monday, there's Margaret Lial in LIAL'S of Carmel on Monte Verde and Ocean. There's a new model Magnavox in the Monterey store, too, which is made of ebony, with a black-panther quality in its finish and a commendable simplicity of design.

Honoring Mrs. Hughes

A tea was given yesterday afternoon by Mrs. A. C. Hughes of Carmel, and her two daughters, Mrs. Joseph Carty and Mrs. Clark Alsop, both of Salinas. The occasion was the introduction of Mrs. Hughes' daughter-in-law, Mrs. Stafford Hughes, who came here a bride last fall from Arizona. Branches of flowering peach were used effectively on the table and the same lovely blossoms gave a spring-like feeling throughout the house.

Mrs. A. C. Hughes, Mrs. Carty, Mrs. Alsop and Mrs. Stafford Hughes received the guests and were assisted in receiving and serving by the following ladies from Salinas: Mesdames Kenneth Coutchie, Ann Krough, Jessie Hughes, Oliver Bardin, Jr., Elmer Hitchcock, Bardin Schween, Hunter Johnson, and Paul Caswell. Those from Carmel who assisted the hostesses were Mesdames Claude T. Faw, Ann Knox, John Abernethy, G. H. Burnette, L. Thayer, and Jack Mathys, Jr. About 160 guests called during the afternoon.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCH

"Reality" is the subject of the Christian Science Lesson-Sermon for Sunday, March 30. The Golden Text is from Psalms: "Thou, O Lord, shalt endure for ever; and thy remembrance unto all generations" (102:12).

Included in the sermon are these citations:

Ecclesiastes: "That which hath been is now; and that which is to be hath already been; and God requireth that which is past" (3:15).

"Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "The three great verities of Spirit, omnipotence, omnipresence, omniscience, — Spirit possessing all power, filling all space, constituting all Science,—contradict forever the belief that matter can be actual. These eternal verities reveal primeval existence as the radiant reality of God's creation, in which all that He has made is pronounced by His wisdom good" (p. 109).

HELEN LAMBERT

Pine Needles . . .Garden Section

One of the outstanding programs of the year was given to the Garden Section of the Carmel Woman's Club Thursday by Mr. Sam de Mello. This inspiring and practical discussion of "It Can Be Easy to Have a Beautiful Garden," held the rapt attention of his audience. He made it clear that beauty does not consist in merely a cluttered riot of spring flowers.

For a pleasing, restful garden, the first essential is a basic plan of which the keynote should be simplicity. This plan should be comprehensive and adhered to during the years of development. Curved paths and flower beds which tie-up with the house should comprise the framework of one's planned design. Next to beauty of line in landscaping, harmonious color combinations must be studied. "Lovely permanent effect can be obtained," said the speaker, "with perennials instead of depending on annuals, whose splashes of color need constant replacement."

He stressed the importance of learning the needs of the different plants as to sunshine, kind of soil, and irrigation, and then putting them in a congenial location. Azaleas, rhododendrons, fuchsias, ferns, and begonias like sunshine filtered through the oak branches, while roses, delphiniums, and many others demand all sunlight.

"Be sure," he cautioned, "to get the choicest plants and seeds. The richness of their blossoms and foliage will repay you for the money spent." More lilies (tigers, madonnas, daylilies and others) were recommended for bright color and few demands.

After the talk Mr. de Mello solved many personal garden problems of the audience during the question period.

The chairman asked for the cooperation of everyone in making a success of the Club's annual Flower Show which will be held May 4 and 5.—Flora Hartwell.

KILZUM FIVE WINS LEAGUE PLAYOFF

The Monterey Industrial Basketball League wound up the season with Doc Kilzum cagers on top of the pile, by virtue of a one-point, overtime victory over the Carmel Legion, 46-45, Tuesday night in Monterey.

Carmel Pine Cone dropped their game to the Monterey Presidio, 50-37.

A foul against Flip DeBord in the overtime period of the Kilzum-Legion fracas, gave DeBord two free shots, both of which he sank to win the game—and the league championship.

BOYS' CLUB TOURNAMENT WON BY SANTA CRUZ

The Carmel Boys' Club played host to basketball teams from Monterey, Aptos, Boulder Creek, Soquel, Watsonville, and Santa Cruz last Friday and Saturday, when lightweight and heavyweight cage teams from these cities competed in an elimination tournament. The Santa Cruz Boys' Club took home the trophies in both divisions by nosing out Monterey in the light bracket and dumping Carmel in the heavy division. Santa Cruz had smooth working teams which displayed excellent team play and fine basketball sense.

Carmel defeated the Watsonville YMCA and the Watsonville CYO to earn the right to compete in the finals. Boys competing for Carmel were: Ed Stetson, John Frey, Tom Machado, John Weigold, Walt Frey, Bob Hendricks, Howard DeAmaral, Bob DeAmaral, Bob Bell, Del Wermuth, Les Bracisco, Newt Goodrich, and Floyd Adams.

Officer Dufur was in charge of the tourney arrangement and deserves a world of credit and appreciation from the youths competing.

Therese Whiteside Color Slides At Playhouse Monday

Therese Whiteside, who has again made the news recently, this time with prize camera color paintings, will show a series of her projected stills at the Golden Bough Playhouse on Monday evening, March 31, at 7:45. Admission charge is fifty cents and all proceeds are for the benefit of the proposed new Carmel Woman's Clubhouse.

Mrs. Whiteside follows the tradition that Edward Weston inaugurated, but her literary interests have led her to photograph many of the places mentioned in the great literature of the country, notably Robinson Jeffers' Thrusor Landing and the Big Sur localities. Her new projector has been tried out at the Playhouse, and indications are that a really perfect performance will be given next Monday evening.

CARMEL OVER TOP

Mathew C. Jenkins, chairman of the American Red Cross drive for funds, has announced that in reaching the quota of $15,320 Carmel is the first chapter in the state to go over the top. Yet contributions are still being made because everyone realizes that the need this year is greater than ever before. Mr. Jenkins said, "The average contribution per person among the membership is certainly gratifying, but we can not feel satisfied until everybody in Carmel has joined. The one dollar member is as welcome as the large contributors, and every family in Carmel, Pebble Beach, Big Sur and Carmel Valley should certainly take part in this work. The Red Cross is the only service of this nature in Carmel, while other districts have several charitable organizations, and only through our decided support of the Red Cross can we be sure of adequate protection against the hazards of the coming year."

She simply can't take the climate of Washington, D. C., so Mrs. Elsie G. Lewis, who left Carmel before Christmas with her mother, Mrs. Harriett Daley, is returning, and expects to be here about the first of the month. Mrs. Daley will remain in Arlington, Virginia.

Home Was Not Like This

When Mrs. Maurice Korshet came back to Carmel this week, she found her neat little home on Alta and Dolores a perfect shambles. Her brother, John Harley, began to get big ideas as soon as Dr. and Mrs. Korshet left for San Francisco, where the doctor went for eye treatment about a month ago. As soon as they were out of sight, Johnny began to pull the house apart, adding a room here, a fireplace there, pushing windows out and putting them in someplace else. However, Berenice Korshet thinks that, after all, it is all right—for Johnny has to have something to play with when he is not at his book shop.

Many At Opening Of Valley Inn

Last Saturday evening there was a gala opening of the Carmel Valley Inn, of which David Prince is the managing director and Harold Gates is his assistant. There were hundreds of diners crowding in from the surrounding country although the opening had been planned to be quiet. The swimming pool will be open to the public on an annual club basis and tennis and badminton courts will shortly be completed for the use of guests and residents of the community. There are twenty rooms accommodating forty guests, and three meals a day will be served to the public. The first honeymoon couple to make reservations at the Inn will arrive Sunday morning—Mr. and Mrs. Edward T. Fairall, straight from their wedding in Stockton, where Mr. C. W. McCombs will act as best man. Mr. McCombs has a home on Carpenter, which he has named Blue Heaven.

Mrs. Etta Rogers

Mrs. Etta Rogers, of 11th and Casanova, passed away at her home on Tuesday, March 25, while she was breakfasting alone. The Coroner stated that her death was the result of a heart attack. She was 75 years old and had been living in Carmel for over a year, since her visit to Mexico, when she acquired her little Mexican hairless dog, whom she called Bambi. Bambi is inconsolable now.

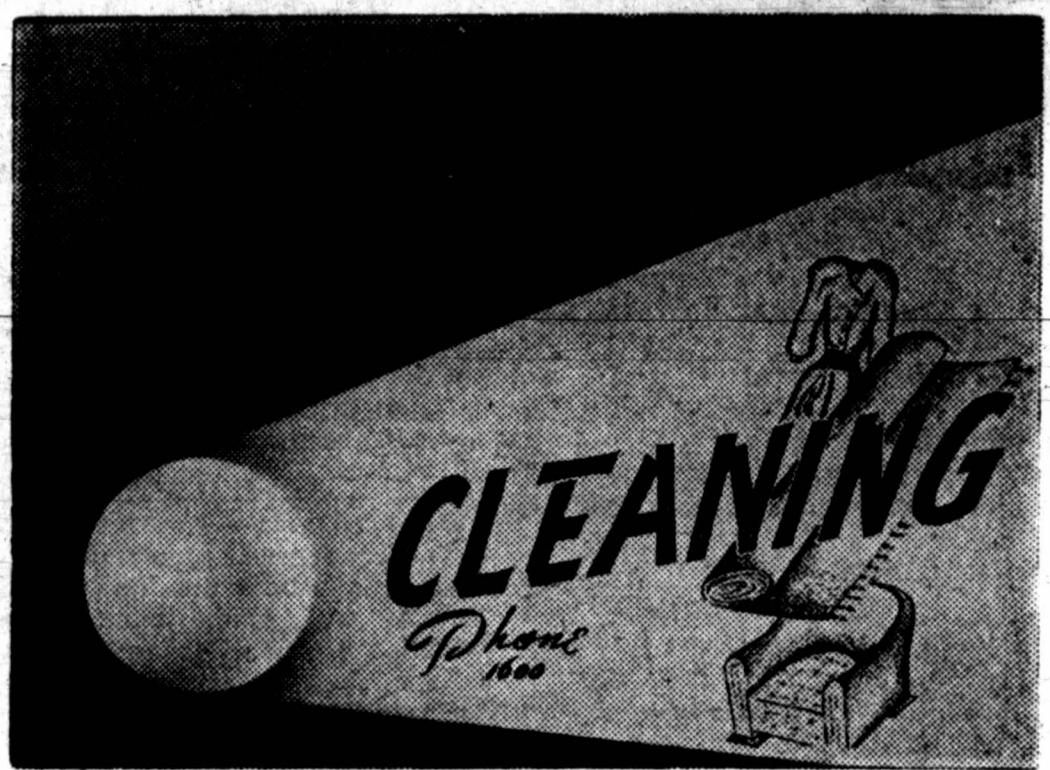

Mrs. Astrid Seron, from whom Mrs. Rogers was renting a guest cottage, became alarmed when she received no response to her knock and she therefore consulted Mr. F. A. Bacher, whose son is married to Mrs. Rogers' only daughter. Col. F. A. Bacher, Jr., is in charge of Johnson Field, an Army airport at Tokyo, Japan, and cables have been sent him, requesting authorization for T. A. Dorney to make funeral arrangements.

From where I sit ... by Joe Marsh

Apple Tree Versus Wheat Field

If you ever visit Jeb Crowell's farm, he'll take you right out on that back porch of his and show you his apple tree.

"There," says Jeb, "is nature's noblest creation—fifty years, and bearin' still the finest cider apples in the county!"

But last fall, when a group of us was there, Lud Denny points across the river to his grain fields and says: "There's an even finer sight! Acres and acres of golden grain you can make dozens of appetizing things with—including wholesome, sparkling beer."

Both of them got so eloquent on the subject, that the rest of us worked up quite a thirst; so Jeb goes to the icebox for beer and cider. And when the refreshments come, Lud chooses cider, and Jeb takes the beer!

From where I sit, that's the answer to most disputes. You can talk all you want, but when it comes to tastes and preferences, there's just no argument.

Joe Marsh
